

Conduct for the Game

Sportsmanship is essential to the conduct of every Yale-Harvard game. Without mutual respect for each other's fine institutions, a true culture of hatred could never be sustained for years and years. In order to encourage proper conduct during games, officials, administrative personnel, and wild boars will be on hand to attack any offenders. Please be considerate of other spectators and respect their boundaries.

The following may be considered evidence of un-sportsmanlike conduct:

- Using vulgar or obscene language*
- Possessing or being under the influence of alcohol or illegal drugs without sharing
- Accidentally sitting on your friend's bag of potato chips and throwing the crumbs on his head
- Flirting with someone when you're not really interested.
- Saving seats for Harvard alumni
- Fighting or otherwise striking or threatening another person (unless he looks at you funny)

*Since offensiveness is subjective, the University has decided to plead for your consideration and recommends limiting the use of two common verbal attacks:

Harvard sucks.

This phrase is confusing. What exactly does this mean? Eliminate all doubt with the following:

Harvard introduces things into its mouth by contracting the muscles of its lips, cheeks, and tongue so as to produce a partial vacuum for the purpose of nurturing its thumbs, drawing blood from its helpless victims, extracting honey from defenseless flowers, removing milk from its mother's teats and available cow utters, and submissively engaging in fellatio or cunnilingus with dominating sexual partners.

Huck Farvard.

While most decidedly a clever transposition of letters, this phrase is particularly coarse. Instead, show off your sheer intellectualism with one of the following:

*Hilify Varvard
Hituperate Varvard
Hillthemothefuckingshiteatingdamnedbastardswhogoto Karvard*

-- Jules Lipoff '03

OBLIGATORY EXAM BEFORE WE LET YOU GRADUATE WITH HONORS, HARVARD COLLEGE

A. General Knowledge

1. What university do you attend? (50 pts)

2. What is your favorite fruit (Examples: apple, banana, peach, etc.)? (25 pts)

3. Do you want to graduate with honors? (50 pts)
 - a) Yes
 - b) Yes
4. Will you perform self-degrading sexual acts for points in the bonus round? (200 pts)
 - a) Yes
 - b) Yes

B. International Studies

5. The adjective "international" in "international studies" means: (40 pts)
 - a) of, relating to, or affecting two or more nations
 - b) more of the white man's lies

C. Humanities

6. Give a dissertation on the nuclear regulatory statutes and a history of Scottish Law as practiced in the Isle of Man -OR- give the first name of Franz Schubert (50 pts) and draw a smiley face (30 pts).

D. Economics

7. Money is: (50 pts)
 - a) Good.
 - b) Really good.

E. Geography

8. What is the country directly north of the United States called? (30 pt)
 - a) Mexico
 - b) The United States
 - c) North
 - d) Heaven
 - e) Canada

F. Chemistry

9. Can you explain Schrödinger's equation? (25 pt)
 - a) Yes
 - b) No

G. Philosophy:

10. Socrates was a: (30 pt)
 - a) Philosopher
 - b) Mad scientist
 - c) Hot dog vender

H. Government

11. Spell CIA backwards. (50 pts)

Extra Credit: Print the title of any book you have ever read... EVER (100 pts): _____

You must earn at least 100 points to graduate with honors.

-- Ashish Vatsal '05

Sometimes the truth is just funny enough ... visit The Harvard Shop

<http://www.hsa.net/store>

"Hip Harvard Tee"

"We love these tees! Coral with dark navy print - There's nothing quite like them."

"The Weekend Tee"

"There's no reason to look anything less than your best, and this Harvard tee is nothing less."

"Harvard Mom and Dad Tees"

"There's no better gift for a doting Harvard parent than these Harvard Mom and Dad tees."

"Destination Harvard"

"Maybe it's a little early to know for sure, but there's no reason not to reach for the stars with this charming Harvard top."